

Anne Skare Nielsen Partner, Futurist

If you've ever felt dazed and confused about the future, then you have certainly found the right person. Anne is both a tornado that can lift you up and broaden your horizon as well as the calm eye of the hurricane, that brings peace to mind and nurtures the ability to zoom in on your preferred future.

Anne works with radical change and transformation of mindset. She is in high demand as a lecturer and provocateur all over the world, but her heart lies with the people who "can & will": those who are passionate about what they do, and believe that dedicated work will make all the difference. Anne is partner at Future Navigator where the vision is to win the Nobel Peace Prize by transforming journalism, politics and education. Anne is the mother of 4 wild boys and married to the love of her life. She was born in Denmark in 1971, is a graduate in biology and political science and has a penchant for science fiction movies, deep conversations with visionary leaders, and champagne. Favorite quote at the moment: "smart has plans, stupid has stories".

- Anne is in the world's elite at:
- Visionary Leadership: predict the future and transform it to a vision that causes others to say "woohoo".
- Training of skills we currently do not have, but cannot do without (what will your future organisation be happy that the present organization invested in?)
- How to reprogram your brain - create a new mindset
- Ethics and principles: Things that last forever (Always do the right thing)
- Journalism and media, local vs. global
- Education and work (lifelong training)
- Street smart IT; monitoring, Big Data, predictive analysis, meaning mining and all that jazz
- Communication, visualization and dissemination of complex matters in a way that makes people go "aaaah, now I see".
